

Villa 13, Atalaya Golf, Estepona

Villa Tierra is a single storey property plus basement with a separate wing for the bedrooms – all with en-suite bathrooms. The main living area has a raised ceiling height of 4.5m, providing light and elegance throughout. The centrepiece of the property is the internal landscaped courtyard, inspired by traditional Andalusian architecture. It is an open, glass-edged area that allows plenty of light to flow through the heart of the home.

Tierra villas are located in a gated and private development with cul-de-sac that cleverly contrasts state-of-the-art contemporary property designs with an ambient warmth of vegetation and lighting to provide elegant homes that are a joy to inhabit. This combination of loving care and delectable style is visible throughout all of the finer details of the development plans, such as the carpentry finishes, the indirect illumination lighting, the natural stone flooring and the lush garden landscaping.
